Joy shone from little George Read's eyes when he met James' drummer David Baynton-Power on Thursday. Due to an extremely rare condition called Moebius Syndrome George from Port Seton is unable to smile, blink or even frown but it was impossible to miss his happiness.

'My nephew is 1 and he has recently been diagnosed with Moebius Syndrome. My sister-in-law told me about the Moebius Research Trust and how they were trying to raise money to fund research into this very distressing condition. When George's dad, Colin, a Trustee with the charity, approached me to be a Patron I was really happy. This is such a worthwhile cause, me and the lads from James are only too happy to help in any way we can'

'When I heard about Colin's motorcycle trek across America to raise money I was really impressed. I am looking forward to reading his blog about the trip' explained David.

Colin and his friend Iain are riding motorcycles on a 2913 mile journey across America in June wearing kilts, which will take ten days. They hope to raise £200,000 for the Moebius Research Trust.
